L. B. HARRISON, Ky. Dec. 25.—Raiders upon moonshiners in the mountains of Kentucky have become dimmer, according to government agents who recently conducted one of the most important raids made in years.

Whether the "shooting eye" of the moonshiner or the secret service agent has become dimmed, or whether the desire for less killing has reached into the far mountain recesses, is a disputed point, but the fact remains that 22 revenue agents raided and destroyed eight large stills in Whitely county, fired numerous shots, were fired at numerous times, but no one was killed and no one was injured.

VETERAN AND BRIDE OF DAY FOUND DEAD

Newark, N. J., Dec. 25.—A small, dark-eyed girl who had just arrived here from Naples, Italy, and her soldier-brother, Romeo Brillo, whose bride she became a few hours later, were found dead from asphyxiation today in their snug Academy avenue apartment. A month ago in Italy, Carmalia received money for steamship fare and with it, a note.

"Come to the sweetheart, and we will be married at Christmas time," After the simple wedding at St. John's, relatives of Brillo feasted the veteran and his bride. When the couple retired, it is believed, Carmalia, who at home was used to oil lamps, blew out the gas.

whose names we could not ascertain. "We had no trouble the first day, although quite a number of shots were fired in the distance. I could not say positively that the shots were fired at us, but think that possibly they were signals to warn the country that raiders were about. We could see men standing on the top of the knobs where they could see the road winding around the banks of Laurel Park, which I believe is the crookiest stream in the world. Sometimes it is hard to tell which way it runs."

Mountaineer Escapes.
The second day we continued the search along Laurel Park. It was at this time that the nearest to any real trouble occurred. We left an old man named Parsons and another man to guard at the mouth of a hollow while we searched it. Just after we left the guards, a mountaineer popped out from behind a tree, fired several shots at the guard with a pistol and ran.

"We gave chase firing as we ran. The man fell, but when we searched we could find no trace of him. This led to one of the amusing incidents of the trip. During the chase we found two stills of which we had no inkling. The man led my party directly to an 80-gallon still which was destroyed. Another section of the party, we had become divided during the chase, found the second still on the opposite side of the hill from that down which the fugitive ran. We did not find out who owned either still, but it is thought.

"It's then went up a hollow where we found another still. This was a rough hollow, and we had to climb over boulders and hang on to trees to get to the still. We then started in the opposite direction. Two miles down another rough hollow we found the last still destroyed.

"A lot of shots were fired on the second day by both natives and ourselves, but nobody was hurt."

Mr. Cornell could not say how much whiskey or beer was destroyed. "We didn't keep track of it," he said. The persons taken by the raiders were taken to Pineville and warrants issued for a number of other men. The warrants were left in the hands of sheriff Rennie and his men for service.

GOLD RESERVE INCREASED.
New York, Dec. 25.—The actual conditions of clearing house banks and trust companies for the week shows that they held $28,559,539 reserve in excess of legal requirements. This is an increase of $2,377,119 from last week.

Q. What former newspaperman wrote and produced the first "motion picture" story in which professional and promiscuous people were starred?

A. Dr. Alexander Black, on October 8, 1914, wrote "Miss Jerry" for production in his moving stereopticon picture. The machine was an ordinary magic lantern, through which a series of transparent plates bearing pictures of the actors were run in succession. Dr. Black, now a novelist, made another stereopticon, "A Capitol Romance," in which president Grover Cleveland posed.
